Hi Matt

RE: Reference for HomeTune

We use HomeTune to service our company cars. The convenience factor of HomeTune makes it a very attractive service, as due to the busy nature of our business, it's hard to be without a car for a day, and harder to find time to drop our cars off to a mechanic.

The service technicians we have had have been great, knowledgeable, and good to deal with. For someone who knows very little about cars, it's very reassuring to me to be able to ask the technician what is wrong, and how it will be fixed. The explanations I've received have been clear and without jargon. The mobile EFTPOS terminals HomeTune has make payment quick and simple.

Regular servicing has improved the performance of our cars, and there's no doubt in my mind, we are extending the lifetime and resale value of our cars.

I'd definitely recommend HomeTune as a good option for corporate vehicle servicing.

Yours sincerely
